

Finding an AFL Community Club - certificate number (umpire courses)

1. Go to the AFL Umpiring courses website <http://www.afl.com.au/umpires/courses>
2. Select the appropriate course either: Level One (Introductory) Accreditation for our SMJFL umpires officiating Under 11 and older, or the AFL Club Umpire Program for our Parent Volunteer Umpires officiating modified rules U8-U10 (&U12 Girls) games

LEVEL ONE UMPIRE ACCREDITATION COURSE

The AFL provides this on-line course for umpires new to officiating Australian Football.

The course is the first step towards an umpire achieving their Level One \(Introductory\) Accreditation.

CLUB UMPIRE PROGRAM

The Australian Football League considers the role and performance of club umpires as important contributors to the presentation and conduct of the game at many levels across Australia.

The performance of club umpires contributes to the enjoyment of players on the day, and often, more broadly the retention of people in Australian Football.

This AFL Club Umpire Program is designed to enable people across the football community to gain knowledge and skills in umpiring and to have their competence in the role on match day confirmed.

3. There is a menu on the left of screen, click “Login” and use the email address you did the course with to login to your account. If you don’t remember your password, click “Forgotten your password?” and follow instructions to reset it. In this example I’m using the Club Umpire Program as a demonstration, but the procedure is the same for either course.

LEARNING

- When you click on the word "Certificate" you should get a box telling you that the certificate has been created successfully, and asking you to click a link to download the file.

- You should then see your certificate as a PDF file, which you can right-click on to save to your computer, and print if necessary, or email to someone. This should have a certificate # at the bottom right of the certificate.

- Now you just need to upload to BlueQ!
